

Walk in the Footsteps of

Elizabeth Cady Stanton

A 1-hour, 1-mile cell phone tour*

Elizabeth Cady Stanton was the first woman to call for the women's right to vote in America. She was born in Johnstown, New York, as was her understanding of the law which did not in any way serve women. Walk the paths that took her from experience to experience that would shape her capacity for revolutionary thinking and actions. Let the sights, sounds, and experiences of her hometown inspire you, as they did her.

Call
518-406-7081

*Free to you except for your minutes.
(Roaming charges apply.)

- 1 Elizabeth Cady Stanton's Birthplace and Childhood Home
51 W. Main St.
- 2 The Johnstown Academy
110 S. Market St.
- 3 The Tryon County Jail/
Fort Johnstown
S. Perry & Montgomery St.
- 4 James Burk's Inn
S. William and W. Montgomery St.
- 5 Mrs. Henry's Boarding House
9 S. William St.
- 6 The Tryon County/Fulton County
Courthouse N. William & Main St.
- 7 The Colonial Cemetery
W. Green St.
- 8 The Scotch Presbyterian Church
27 N. Market St.
- 9 The Elizabeth Cady Stanton Marker
Sir William Johnson Park on Main St.

This cell phone tour is proudly brought to you by The Elizabeth Cady Stanton Hometown Association. We are a charitable organization (Sec 510C(3)) founded in 2008 with the objective to educate people about the work of Elizabeth Cady Stanton, serve women in a variety of capacities as Elizabeth did, and establish Johnstown as the birthplace of women's equality.

To find out more visit our website at www.ecstantonhometown.org

The Cady Home

The Johnstown Academy

Scotch Presbyterian

The grave site of Elizabeth's parents, two sisters and their husbands can be found in the Johnstown Cemetery, two blocks north of Green Street: Veer left between sections N and K, veer right at section O, then walk to the trees beyond the Voorhees monument, you will see the Cady monument on the right.